

Module 1: Starting a new job in an engineering company

Follow-up reflection

In module 1, you have been familiarized with various relevant aspects of the job application process: job ads, cover letters, (written & video) CVs, and job interviews.

Look back on your experiences and your learning progress throughout the module, and your performances in Real-Life Tasks 1 (Producing a job application) and Real-Life Task 2 (Participating in a job interview)

Write a structured reflection (300-400 words) which focuses on the following points:

- What were the main challenges you experienced?

 - What did you learn and what were your main achievements?

 - What would be your next learning steps?

 - What advice would you give your colleagues for their own applications?
